

Daniel Beres

Some people were just not meant to sit at a desk. Such is the case with Daniel Beres, a multitalented, instrumentalists, singer, and all around gifted musician.

For over a decade Daniel has been working tirelessly, shaping the sound and style of his band Truth in Fiction. Originally stepping into position as lead singer, he took three big steps stage right to shred lead guitar for the overall betterment of the band. Truth in Fiction has succeeded internationally (Fatbone Records in Japan, 2008-2010) and domestically (Dangerbird Management, 2007-2009). They have performed with Fall Out Boy, Sugarcult, The Starting Line, and were featured on the Warped Tour 2004 line-up.

Daniel's musical influences range from every corner of the Powerpop, and Pop Rock spectrum, breed on some of music's top genre defining artists, like Jimmy Eat World, The Strokes, Third Eye Blind, Thin Lizzy, Copeland, and The All American Rejects .

His passion for guitars and singing are only outnumbered by his first love, the drums. Daniel is truly a one-man band, with the talent and skills needed to record an entire album solo, something he aspires to do someday.

At any given show you can see Daniel cracking jokes with the crowd, laughing, and loving the chance to play his craft to an appreciative, enthusiastic audience. His main goal for his live shows is to make sure that everyone is having a great time, including himself.